- The Department of Africana Studies

FEBRUARY 5 to 25, 2010

Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi, Martin Luther King, Jr., and Daisaku Ikeda, three men, from different cultures, continents, and ages, dedicated their lives to saving and reviving the human race. From the non-violent movement for Indian independence led by Gandhi, to the courageous struggles for African-American civil liberties led by King, to the championing of world-wide social harmony, tolerance and awareness by Ikeda, the Gandhi, King, Ikeda: A Legacy of Building Peace exhibit provides our community the timely opportunity to break down the artificial separation of people by skin color, belief systems and cultural traditions, linking friends from diverse communities together toward a common dream.
