Jessie J. Knight, Jr. - CEO, SDG&E

A Journey to Our Future

Learn firsthand which jobs SDG&E® hires for and how to best prepare for them. This event will provide you with some key resources that may assist you when planning your educational career. Whether you're a student or professional, this Expo will offer you an excellent opportunity to learn more about SDG&E and to network with others. There are also two dynamic breakout sessions of which you can take advantage.

Who Should Attend?

- ▶ Students with a passion for math and science
- ▶ Students who may be considering a career in engineering or information technology
- ▶ Professionals in the engineering and technology field
- ▶ Administrators or teachers exploring information to share with classrooms

Seminar Highlights

- ▶ The opportunity to meet with employees from over 15 departments within San Diego Gas & Electric®
- ▶ Hear from a panel of Engineers and Technology professionals that will share personal experiences in their education and career paths
- ▶ Admission to much of the San Diego Air and Space Museum

What to Expect During the Breakout Sessions:

- ▶ Hear how SDG&E is working to transform the energy industry for the future

- ▶ Learn how SDG&E is focusing on managing the Grid with the use of technology

Welcome Address From an Expert:

Jessie J. Knight is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of San Diego Gas & Electric (SDG&E). Knight became CEO of SDG&E in April 2010. Previously, Knight served as Executive Vice President of external affairs for Sempra Energy, overseeing all communications and community relations activities, government relations and regulatory and international affairs.

Before joining Sempra Energy in 2006, Knight served for seven years as president and chief executive officer of the San Diego Regional Chamber of Commerce. From 1993 to 1999, Knight served as commissioner for the
