

Call for Presenters

Expanding Your Horizons Conference San Diego - Saturday, March 2, 2013

The Conference

EXPANDING YOUR HORIZONS (EYH) provides girls from all over San Diego County the opportunity to experience science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) in hands-on workshops at an all-day conference at the University of San Diego. The goals are to increase girls' interest in STEM fields and to learn that they can do science!

Who are EYH Presenters and What Will They Do?

- EYH Presenters are enthusiastic scientists and professionals who are willing to engage the girls in fun and interactive science activities.
- Each presenter will put on a 50-minute workshop to three different groups during the day. Each group will consist of 10-15 girls, mentored by female college students and guiding the girls throughout the day. Workshop sessions are:
9:30 am – 10:30 am 10:45 am – 11:45 pm 1:10 pm – 2:10 pm
- Workshops should have 40+ minutes of demonstrations and hands-on activities that illustrate a STEM principle that is important in the presenter's field. A laboratory or classroom on the USD campus is provided for each workshop.
- Tips and information on how to structure a workshop, what to expect from the girls and how to keep them engaged will be provided, including optional interactive training. Overall, we expect about 40 workshops to be held concurrently.
